

F: SPEECHES DCI

Approved For Release 2001/03/02 : CIA-RDP70-00058R000100210029-6

12 November 1959

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR:

1. Your statement to the Congressional committee is returned herewith with these recommendations:

(a) That the RELEASE-to-the-press time by 2:00 P.M., EST, 13 November 1959. Larry Houston says the committee favors this. It will give your statement, which is the first to be made, a one-hour lead time for the wire services and thus have greater coverage in the Mid-west and West, and will also make it available for the two late afternoon editions on the East coast. If you agree to this 2 P.M. release time, we could furnish a copy today to David Lawrence, who wants to quote at least an excerpt from your statement. Tomorrow is too late for his periodical. Larry Spivak is after an advance so he can use it on Sunday's "Meet The Press" as a basis for questions if he gets a leading economist as guest. This is less urgent than Lawrence, NEWSWEEK, and TIME.

(b) Here is a niggling point: On page 2, paragraph 3, last sentence, "from fair to mediocre" as points on a scale of measurement means precisely what? "Fair" is ambiguous as a mark of measurement on a scale with "mediocre" --the latter defined as "of moderate excellence" or in the middle of a measurement spectrum. Recommend "from fair to mediocre" be changed to read "from fairly good to very good."

(c) Page 19, line 5, change "Soviet" to "Soviets."

(d) Page 20, last sentence, recommend delete "cow" so it reads "on the barns."

2. This is an impressive and newsworthy statement.

STANLEY J. Grogan

Approved For Release 2001/03/02 : CIA-RDP70-00058R000100210029-6

12 November 1959

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR:

1. Your statement to the Congressional committee is returned herewith with these recommendations:

(a) That the RELEASE-to-the-press time be 2:00 P.M., EST, 13 November 1959. Larry Houston says the committee favors this. It will give your statement, which is the first to be made, a one-hour lead time for the wire services and thus have greater coverage in the Mid-west and West, and will also make it available for the two late afternoon editions on the East coast. If you agree to this 2 P.M. release time, we could furnish a copy today to David Lawrence, who wants to quote at least an excerpt from your statement. Tomorrow is too late for his periodical. Larry Spivak is after an advance so he can use it on Sunday's "Meet The Press" as a basis for questions if he gets a leading economist as guest. This is less urgent than Lawrence, NEWSWEEK, and TIME.

(b) Here is a niggling point: On page 2, paragraph 3, last sentence, "from fair to mediocre" as points on a scale of measurement means precisely what? "Fair" is ambiguous as a mark of measurement on a scale with "mediocre" --the latter defined as "of moderate excellence" or in the middle of a measurement spectrum. Recommend "from fair to mediocre" be changed to read "from fairly good to very good."

(c) Page 19, line 5, change "Soviet" to "Soviets."

(d) Page 20, last sentence, recommend delete "cow" so it reads "on the barns."

2. This is an impressive and newsworthy statement.

STANLEY J. GROGAN